Estimate $20,000,000 Loss Due to Raider Still Cruising Seas

New York, Jan. 18.—With the possibility that the German raider which sank and captured from fifteen to a score of allied ships is still continuing her depredations, steamship owners and marine underwriters were in a state of nervous tension today. The losses in ships and cargoes thus far represent from $15,000,000 to $20,000,000.

British cruisers reported to number fifteen, but the search for the raider, which according to one report, may be the auxiliary cruiser Vineta, according to another, the cruiser Moewe, the same steamer which played havoc with allied shipping a few days ago. Steamship circles were especially concerned today over a wireless warning that the German raider was working northward to more frequent encounters to steamships. The possibility that the raider may have armed, and manned one or more of her prizes, and dispatches them also on commerce raiding missions, was another, the cruiser Moewe, the same report was that the British steamer St. Theodore, was thus transformed. Definite news of the fate of this vessel and of the farward, reported to have on board some of the crews of other captured vessels, was still lacking today.

Bulgarian Artillery Active.
Belin, Jan. 18.—Bulgarian artillery has been vigorously bombarding from the Dobrudja side of the Danube, hostile shipping in that stream and the entire military positions on the Danube. The Bulgarian headquarters reported that the Russian artillery up to this time has sunk seven tugboats and one small torpedo boat. The report says.

An attack made by the Russians yesterday on the northern Rumanian coast, at the mouth of the Danube, was repulsed by the German fire, the war office announced.

Germans Quit Positions.
Berlin, Jan. 18.—German positions near Serre, on the Somme front, was announced by the war office today. A British attack at Laos was repulsed, the war office said.

Heavy Lake Losses Inmen and Ships Reported for Year

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)
Detroit, Mich., Jan. 18.—Seventy-three lives and fourteen vessels were lost on the Great Lakes during the year 1916, according to the annual report of the Lake Carriers' association made public today at the annual convention of the organization. The report shows that the most serious loss since 1911, when a November storm claimed the greatest toll of lives and of ships in the history of inland navigation.

Three Serious Wrecks.
Three wrecks last year caused the death of sixty-seven persons. The first serious casualties took place on May 8, when the steamer Kirby went down in a gale on Lake Superior at Eagle Harbor. Only two members of her crew of twenty-two were saved. The other boats sank in Lake Michigan. On October 20, twenty-four men went down with the whaleback James B. Colgate and the steamer Merida was lost with her entire crew of twenty-two.

The gross tonnage of the fourteen vessels was 16,317. The remainder of the boats recorded in the casualties list follow:

Sturgeon—City of Midland, Panther, Topeka, Caronic, Saint Ignace, Barges—Boy Roy, D. L. Flier, Sam Flint.

Schlonger—James H. Hill.

Report of Enormous Business.

The tremendous business handled last year by lake vessels is emphasized by the report, which declares that the one movement in 1916 was 64,784,101 tons as against 49,070,473 tons in the hitherto banner year of 1915.

The report adds, however, that although tonnage was a ton last year, "the boats made very little money," because "operating expenses were so greatly increased."

Over the outlook for 1917 is rosy, because after a lapse of sixteen years, the ore rate of one dollar a ton from ports at the head of Lake Superior has been re-established.

Chicago's grain trade in 1916 totaled 363,993,156 bushels, a decrease of 22,168,896 bushels from 1915. Chicago ships carried only 25,082,000 bushels, a reduction of 19,000,000 bushels, or 43.7 per cent less than its shipments of 1915.

The report adds that the grain rates were the most "significant feature" of the year's trade, as the average rate per bushel for 1916 was 44 cents, compared with 42 cents a quarter cent, compared with two and a quarter cents the preceding year.

Big Demand for Ships.
The record breaking demand for ocean and coast-wise vessels was responsible for the greatest buying campaign in lake history. Seventy-one vessels with a total tonnage of 82,000 gross tons and of the list included twelve ore carriers of the 10,000-ton class.

Most of the vessels built last year were big freighters, six 12,000-ton vessels were turned out, while one 9,500-ton boat and one of 7,000 tons were built. Fifty-nine vessels are under construction at Great Lakes ports for 1917 delivery.

MARKS BABY'S WRIST FOR IDENTIFICATION

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)
San Francisco, Jan. 18.—His coat of arms sketched in indelible ink on the wrist of his baby daughter gives assurance to the mother, Mrs. Von Bricken, military attaché of the German consulate here, that his young wife will carry away no other child when she leaves the hospital where their first born came into the world yesterday.

In a panic at sight of numerous other infants in the hospital nursery, Von Bricken, lately, in the German consulate here, catechized the nurses on their methods of identification. Not satisfied with their answer, he called for ink and pen.

THAW DETECTIVE IN A FIT OF HYSTERIA

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)
Philadelphia, Jan. 18.—A detective named Kelly, employed by a private agency who has been doing duty at 2560 Walnut street, where Harry K. Thaw attempted suicide last week, became hysterical today and shot up the police.

The police are making an investigation to determine whether the man had been drinking or was suffering from hallucination.

When the police arrived the detective was in a semi-conscious condition and was taken to a hospital. The police said he asserted someone had struck him and that he then began to shoot.

The police said that the man, who Thaw attempted to take his own life, Kelly told the police he heard a knock on a window, and then was struck with a beer bottle. Scatery and blood were found on the man.

According to the police, Kelly was sent to the house to guard it during the absence of the family, who have left the place temporarily.

The condition of Thaw, who is in a hospital here recovering from razor wounds, self-inflicted, a week ago, is reported satisfactory by his physician, who has been at the hospital several days. His mind is still a little cloudy, the doctors said, but is gradually clearing.

Thaw's mother, who has been at the hospital several days, has sought seclusion to avoid letter-writers and others who, her friends say, are annoying her about her son's case.

New York, Jan. 18.—The supreme court today refused to reduce the bail fix recently at $15,000 of Oliver Brown, charged with conspiracy to kidnap Frederick Gump, Jr., of Kansas City. Brown's counsel held that the amount of the bond was excessive, and yesterday obtained a writ of habeas corpus in an effort to have it made smaller.

Brown's attorney contended his client was nothing more than a messenger, and that he was not a conspirator in an effort to locate Gump after the latter had fled from New York, subsequent to alleged whipping inflicted upon him by Thaw here on Christmas night.

SUFFRAGISTS ARE WORKING AT ODDS

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)
Madison, Jan. 18.—The Wisconsin Woman's Suffrage association, in convention here today elected the following officers: Mrs. H. M. Youmans, Waukesha, was unanimously re-elected president; first vice president, Mrs. Victor L. Berger, Milwaukee; second vice president, Mrs. Isaac P. Witmer, Grand Rapids; third vice president, Mrs. Maud McCrery, Green Bay; recording secretary, Mrs. A. J. Rogers, Milwaukee; treasurer, Miss E. E. Robinson, Kenosha; honorary president, Rev. Olympia Brown of Racine.

The first clash on the question of the sort of suffrage bill to be introduced before the legislature, came today. Mrs. Glenn Turner of Madison spoke in favor of the referendum and Mrs. Youmans opposed her and argued for a bill for presidential suffrage.

Owing to the lack of time, the discussion of the convention was postponed until the end of the afternoon session.

Mrs. Turner's argument was that if the suffragists ask for less than they did two years ago the men will think they are losing interest in the franchise, "and the other states will be disappointed if we are to lie down now."

"Presidential suffrage," she said, "would not achieve much in the way of permanent organization among the women."

The argument of political expediency was brought up by Mrs. Youmans in her defense. She said that every referendum campaign costs money, and that the suffragists must have a budget of $10,000 for the coming year's expenses.

PROPOSE INCREASED COMPENSATION FOR INJURED WORKMEN

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
Madison, Wis., Jan. 18.—Increases in the schedules for injuries under the workmen's compensation law provides for a bill offered in the assembly today by Assemblyman Charles P. Hart of Oshkosh. The bill provides for an increase in compensation from six to seven per cent, and also provides for further material increases in the amount of compensation to be paid where the injuries are of a most severe character.

Need Larger Compensation.
"Working men should be paid a compensation sufficient to carry them through a sickness, and that they have no need of the state when the period of illness is over," said Assemblyman Hart today in explaining the reason for his bill.

The workmen in my community and in other laboring sections of the state have found that the sixty-five per cent wage compensation allowed is not sufficient. It is my belief that a seventy-five per cent compensation will prove more adequate. In cases of severe illness, my bill provides that additional weeks of compensation shall be given to the injured workman. I have also incorporated a provision in the bill providing that pay shall be given to the injured workman at the end of the fourth week, and not at the end of the fourth week as at present."

Assemblyman Hart said that his bill followed in many particulars the bill offered by the senate last year, which was defeated by a vote of twenty-two to twenty. He believes that the increased prosperity of the manufacturers entitles the workmen to more compensation and that the bill is a fair one.

Burke Presents a Bill.
Senator Timothy Burke of Green Bay also offered a bill to the senate today of far reaching effect on the subject of workmen's compensation. His bill provides for a flat twenty-five per cent increase on the end of the fourth week, which provides the amount of weekly wages which an injured employee shall receive under the present law. The number of weeks compensation is to be paid by twenty-five per cent. For example, under the old law, if a man lost an arm at the end of the fourth week, he would receive for the next six weeks, which is just been brought out. The book is the result of M. ## FRENCHMAN REVEALS GERMANY'S AMBITION FOR WORLD EMPIRE

NEW SECURITIES CREATED BY U. S. FARM LOAN ACT

Bureau Man Explains Creation of
New Bonds Based on Farm Mortgages.

Washington, Jan. 18.—As explained before in these articles, the operations of the farm loan act are divided into two main classes—a money assembling agency and a money lending agency.

The government puts the first nest-egg into the farm loan plan by buying the original capital stock of the twelve federal land banks if necessary. When this has been loaned and farm mortgages taken in return for the money loaned, the federal land banks may issue bonds against these mortgages. These bonds will be among the most attractive securities ever offered to American investors. As explained before, only up to 50 per cent of the value of their land. This means that every dollar's worth of bonds issued represents 50 cents worth of land as security. The fact that each federal land bank guarantees the bonds of all the other banks all puts behind these bonds as security the nine million dollars original capital stock of the banks and their required surplus earnings, plus the required annual deduction of the mortgage loan.

Besides this, the security constantly increases proportionately by reason of the constantly increasing capital contributed by the farm loan association.

So the investment end of the farm loan act is fully as important as the money-lending end, because it creates for the benefit of small and large investors a security backed by pooled first mortgages on land. The bonds are being used to increase the productive power, and enhance the value of these mortgaged lands.

Since the rate of interest to the farmer depends upon the rate of interest at which these bonds will sell, congress went the limit to make these bonds attractive so they would sell at a low interest rate. The bonds are exempt from all forms of taxation. The government will not even collect any income tax upon them. No state or municipality may tax them for any purpose.

In order to make these bonds appeal to investors of all classes they are issued in denominations of from $25 to $1,000. In order to protect them against counterfeiting they are issued by the United States government bureau of engraving and printing, and are protected from counterfeiters by the whole force of the United States secret service.

Heretofore it has been practically impossible for the small investor to buy real estate securities. A man or woman who wanted to buy $100 worth of farm securities was not able to find a farm mortgage of just that size. In addition, the investor would not buy such a mortgage without inspecting the security. The cost and the bother were barriers which made it almost impossible for the small investor to get first mortgage securities.

Hereafter it will be possible for any investor who wants to buy farm securities from $25 up merely to apply for a federal farm loan bond of the denomination desired.

The investor will know that this bond represents $2 worth of land appraised under government supervision and that the bond was issued under government regulation.

The rate of interest at which these bonds will be issued has not yet been determined by the federal farm loan board. It is safe to predict that in the beginning it will not be less than four and not more than five per cent.

So the benefits of the farm loan act are not limited to farmers who need the use of cheaper capital, but they include also those persons who have money to invest and are seeking a long time, readily marketable security of undoubted value.

PLANS ARE UNDER WAY FOR ANNUAL JUNIOR PROM

(JANESVILLE TO THE GAZETTE.)

Madison, Wis., Jan. 18.—Plans for the annual Junior Prom, to be held under the direction of the junior class of the University of Wisconsin on February 9, are well under way. The affair will be held in the new state capitol building and will be the best prom ever held according to the statement of Morland McMurray of Madison, prom chairman. Arrangements are being made to secure the best possible music for the affair. Up to the present time the contract has not been let, although several Chicago orchestras have been under consideration for a long time. This will undoubtedly be the last year in which the annual prom will be held in the capitol building, due to objections on the part of members of the legislature.

LOCAL INDUSTRIES.

There is nothing that helps a community grow as the hosting of its home industries, the backing given its own citizens by their fellow men and the general harmony that prevails where such a spirit exists. Edgerton has it, Evansville has it, Beloit has it, and they are proud of their local industries and the men that are behind them and show their appreciation by supporting them. Edgerton has had success during the summer months, raising a good sized sum of money for that purpose. Evansville keeps pace with its sister city and sees to it that their band has due recognition. Beloit has two or three bands at the time, all of them supported as it were, by the public. Janesville has two bands that deserve recognition. Both are composed of men who willingly donate their personal services and their money as far as able for local enterprises and they deserve the support of the citizens.

Nor is the spirit of "boasting" confined to individual cases. The city that succeeds keeps it up the year round. It is not one thing it is another. The citizens are loyal to each other and they help each other by words of encouragement and by financial aid if need be. Many an industry has been weathered over by fellow citizens who have come to the assistance of the management and aided them when a few hundred or thousand dollars meant continuation of the business. One can not expect the banking institutions to carry all the burden of financial operations unless they are protected. It is up to the citizens who are alive to the best interests of the community, to look for their own selves and when found, do the best they can to further the desired ends.

There is an old saying that Rome was not built in a day and this is true. Nor was any business enterprise wrecked in a day if given proper assistance in a time of necessity. It is not from purely philanthropic motives that this is suggested, yet right here at home are several business concerns that could be aided materially by the advance of a few thousand dollars that give promise of fine results in the immediate future. Nor are the concerns referred to of the mushroom, problematic type, but good, established businesses with a past record and a bright future. The management and the citizens would stand together, would stop internal bickering, would aid the growth of local industries, it would mean the development of a civic community, built upon sound grounds, that would be hard to overcome. There are plenty of sure things, glimmers of light, and the management and the citizens would stand together, would stop internal bickering, would aid the growth of local industries, it would mean the development of a civic community, built upon sound grounds, that would be hard to overcome. ## DEMANDS OF SERVANTS.

The first domestic servants' union formed east of the Missouri river is reported from Duluth, Minn. It is presenting to employers a list of demands. These include a nine hour day, time and a half for overtime, one full day each week for recreation, also higher wages. One can imagine the groan that will arise from the employing households of Duluth.

Yet this is probably what the serving class of the future is going to require. The kitchen lady already has pretty much her own way. She may be impertinent, may know practically nothing about cooking, and may never serve in a day of her life. But even if so, the mistress puts up with her service because the old type of faithful, competent, contented service grows harder to find each year.

From the mistress's point of view, the girls are committing an act of folly in turning down good pay plus costly board. She feels that the girl should be happy in her position and tending to her duties. But even if so, the mistress puts up with her service because the old type of faithful, competent, contented service grows harder to find each year.

Servants like other people have their own social interests that are the things that for them make life worth living. If the boys of their own sex are turned loose at 6.00 a. m. to go to bed, the girls will demand their freedom about the same time. It may seem silly or positively dangerous to the dignified lady of the house. But it is the law of life, and the attraction of sex and the desire for pleasure are elements that affect every form of industry and must be considered.

If housewives could adjust themselves to this demand and order their evening meal a less formal affair, they would keep their servants with far less difficulty. If they could clear away their own table while Bridget was turned loose with her friends, household service would be infinitely more popular than it is now.

The mistress need not be alarmed as they hear the tramp in our public halls of resounding feet, as it is not the growth of the country toward militarism, merely the degree team of the lodge rehearsing for the annual installation of officers.

UP SALT RIVER.

According to the Christian Science Monitor, the people of the United States have always been prone and quick to catch a happy or unhappy remark or phrase in politics, and to make the most of it to the advantage of one or the disadvantage of another party. The political history of the country is full of instances of this kind, and even of history of importance, having their origin in some offhand or thoughtless expression. Careers of promise have been made or unmade by sayings introduced into a campaign. It is easy, for anybody even casually acquainted with the political past of the nation, to recall how apparently innocent and meaningless words have been used to belittle a candidate, with the result perhaps of insuring his defeat. Some leaders are happy even in their most casual expressions. Lincoln was one of these; Grant was another. It used to be said that the difference between Lincoln and his greatest general was that while one dropped pearls of speech, the other dropped pearls of silence. Nevertheless, when Grant said that he hoped to fight it out on this line if it took all summer, and when he said, "Let us have peace," he furnished his friends with political campaign material of the first order. They were sayings as simple as "With charity toward all; with malice toward none," or "You can fool some of the people part of the time, and part of the people all the time, but you cannot fool all the people all the time," and because they were simple they were remembered.

Once, a long time ago, a defeated officeholder, in order to "get himself together," left home as soon as he became aware of the result of the polls. A friend, inquiring for him a little later, was informed by a member of his family that he had gone up Salt river. Salt river was and is a modest little stream that rises in the hills of Kentucky, and, after flowing through a more or less picturesque district for about a score of miles, empties into the Ohio. It was in those days a good fishing creek, and the kind of stream a jaded and disappointed politician might naturally fancy.

There was not a thing wrong about his excursion. Yet his political enemies got hold of the remark that he had "gone up Salt river" and used it to imply that this meant the end of his public career. The saying spread from Kentucky into other states, and for more than half a century it has been used to express the idea that a politician has been "driven to the woods" for good. "He's gone up Salt river" has come to mean, in fact, that a politician has been so badly beaten that he cannot "come back." "Has 'seen his finish.'" Yet, it is not true that there is no return from Salt river, for many who have taken canoe trips up that stream have actually returned and made a greater stir than ever in the field of politics. Three men, whose careers parallel each other in many respects, made repeated trips up the river, and as often emerged from the mouth of the stream as full of confidence and hope as when Napoleon Bonaparte on his return from Elba, Henry Clay was off to them. Another was James G. Blaine. The third is William Jennings Bryan. The latter knows every inch of the Salt river country. Three times has he steered into its depths, and three times has he sailed out and into wider and deeper waters, with a smile on his lips and a light in his eyes that betokened determination to make another effort for his cherished ideals.

There is a legend to the effect that when one has navigated Salt River in a first instance, one is likely to be attracted to it, or lured by it in other instances. However this may be, Mr. Bryan is not the man to give way to superstition. Salt river is a potential waterway, and Mr. Bryan may be said to be at present engaged in waterway development on a large scale. The name of the men who have "gone up Salt river" is legion. The country has ceased to remember those who remained up the stream; it has always had a kindly feeling for those who went up and came back. This is a thing which disappointed politicians should remember. Anybody is likely to be beaten in a political fight; only those are defeated who stay beaten.

One thing the paper makers can be sure of is that the producers who get the biggest possible prices in the present temporary emergency won't get the biggest possible business when the war is over and the paper buyer again has his innings.

The scientists are said to be evenly divided on the question of daylight saving, but there is no such division of sentiment on the part of the producers of electric light.

Formerly politicians used to have their ears to the ground, but since the recent Wall street leak they have them at the foreign relations committee door.

When the politicians claim that the president is usurping power, the truth is that their cousin's husband did not get the postmaster ship.

It is claimed that millions spent in the last election have never been reported, but of course the politicians are always urged to forget the past.

The new legislators before the session is over will be permitted to second someone's motion, or possibly to move to adjourn.

About now people get nervous prostration working for money with which to take a rest cure at the southern winter resorts.

It is not believed that congress will be satisfied with the public buildings bill, as only half the money is wasted.

FINANCE COMMITTEE IS BUSY ON BUDGET

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] Madison, Wis., Jan. 18.—The joint finance committee of the legislature got down to actual business yesterday afternoon and heard evidence from three departments on the appropriations desired. John A. Hazelwood, secretary of the civil service commission, appeared before the committee and asked for an annual appropriation of $20,000 a year with permission to use the unexpended balance for the past biennium of $6,977.06. He told the committee, however, that he would much prefer to have an annual appropriation for the department of $23,565 and allow the unexpended balance to revert to the state treasury. Mr. Hazelwood explained the new activity undertaken by the commission to raise the standard of efficiency among civil service employees. This supervision to the 3,200 employees of the state cost practically $4,000 annually.

Adjutant General Holway appeared before the finance committee and asked for an annual appropriation of $300,000 a year. This is the amount recommended for the department by the state board of public affairs. Dr. C. A. ## COUNTY BREEDERS IN JOINT CONFERENCES

VARIOUS STOCK BREEDERS' ASSOCIATIONS CO-OPERATE IN MEETING HERE THIS WEEK.

6 ASSOCIATIONS MEET

Sessions Draw Good Crowds—Many Farmers Here for Poultry Show Take Advantage of Talks on Farm Problems.

Through the active co-operation of the various stock breeders' associations of the county a number of joint meetings have been arranged for the members of the various organizations. Realizing the benefit to be derived from combining their efforts in the securing of authorities to talk on various vital problems which are confronting the farmers of the county at this time, the organizations joined together in series of conferences, each taking up different subjects under the direct supervision of one of the associations. In this manner all the members of all the associations are given advantages in each association or town, opportunity for open discussion and for acquiring ideas along the latest and most modern developments in the marketing of the products, the breeding of stock, in the feeding of cattle, and in the general conduct of the farm, are given all the men. A spirit and a means of cooperation among the farmers who can only spend a limited time in Janesville for the conferences have the opportunity of attending meetings on more than one subject.

The meetings are composed of, and under the supervision of the following associations: Rock County Live Stock Breeders' association, Rock County Guernsey Breeders' association, Rock County Holstein Breeders' association, Rock County Short Horn Breeders' association, Rock County Farm Improvement association, and the various milk producers' associations of the county.

Yesterday afternoon seventy-five progressive farmers of this county assembled at the city hall to discuss and to get any possible aid and information in regard to the difficult problems connected with the present high cost of feeds. The question of how to profitably feed the dairy cow, beef cattle, or baby beef under the existing circumstances when feed is much higher than it has ever been before was considered.

At a meeting held this morning at eleven o'clock under the leadership of E. H. Prater, president of the Swine Breeders' association were taken. This afternoon each of the several associations in session held this week, held its annual business meeting for the hearing of reports and the election of officers for the coming year. Later in the afternoon a joint meeting was held under the supervision of the Livestock Breeders' association at the city hall, at which A. D. Hall of the University of Wisconsin gave a talk on the general livestock situation at this time with remarks on breeding and allied subjects.

Leaders in the movement to bring the various associations together to foster a greater spirit of co-operation between these various units is closely allied in purpose, hope to make these joint sessions an annual event, a week of activities that will come to be a winter fair in its importance to the farmers of the county.

DON'T ASK TOO MUCH IS KITTLE'S ADVICE TO MILK PRODUCERS

Chicago Man Urges Co-operation and a Square Deal in Address to Janesville Association.

"Be fair and reasonable; don't ask too much for your milk," was the advice given by Mr. Kittle, of the Chicago Milk Producers' association, in an address last evening before the Janesville milk producers' association. Mr. Kittle, who is president of the Chicago Milk Producers' association, urged farmers to pull together if they hoped to reap the benefits of organization.

Mr. Kittle addressed an audience which completely filled the city hall assembly room. He is a speaker with a free and easy style and convincing address. Several who heard him declared that his persuasiveness was akin to that of a revivalist, which he was before he took up the work of organizing the farmers into milk producers' associations.

At present he is editor of the Milk News, and in addition to his work as secretary of the Chicago milk producers, spends much of his time speaking before farmers and milk men urging the advantages of consistent organized effort.

Mr. Kittle declared himself in favor of the home market wherever that market could handle the product, and advised producers in aiding and creating a home market for their milk.

Mr. Kittle assisted the local producers in securing the cheese factory for Janesville when it had been demonstrated that there was a surplus of milk produced in the territory contiguous to Janesville.

Without exhortation of any kind, but evidently convinced by the soundness of Mr. Kittle's remarks, twenty farmers enrolled last night as members of the local association.

The campaign for new members is expected to go forward all winter. Those who are interested in this part of the county are lined up with the organization.

Although there are but seventy-five members listed at present, the organization is in harmony with the society and have been attending the meetings. These will sign up shortly, it is promised.

The Janesville association will hold a business meeting next Wednesday afternoon at the city hall for the purpose of electing delegates to a county convention and a delegate to a meeting of the Wisconsin milk producers' association.

The date for this meeting will be announced later.

FIRE DEPARTMENT CALLED TO THREE SMALL BLAZES

Chimney fires again gave the fire department trouble yesterday when they were called out twice to guard against any damage resulting from the same. The first fire occurred in the home of Mrs. F. W. Porter, 120 Randall avenue, where a chimney fire burned out without going any damage. There was a similar fire at the residence of Lewis Page, 487 Pine street. No damage was done.

Fire completely demolished a three-story building, the property of Edward Page, 907 Oakland avenue yesterday afternoon when inflammable material in it caught fire while a number of children were playing about it. The fact that the structure was only three feet high and housed nothing but dolls, the damage was inconsequential.

Administering an Estate is a Business in Itself.

When you are debating with yourself whether to name an individual or a trust company as executor of your will and trustee of your estate, bear in mind this vital distinction: With most individuals trusteeship is a side issue, for which they have no special preparation. Administering wills and managing estates is the business of a trust company, for which it has been organized and is completely equipped. It costs your estate only a moderate fee to secure the broad experience and businesslike methods of this company, as executor and trustee.

NEWS NOTES—MOVIELAND

67 DAISY DEAN

Marie Cahill, one of the best known comedienne of the legitimate stage, has followed the example of several other prominent stage stars and joined the Mutual forces. She will be seen in two-reel comedies. "La Belle Marie," as she is known among her friends of the profession, has a comedy business that is distinctively her own and just as distinctively popular with a fun-loving public. The first of the Cahill comedies will be "Phirring with Romance," and this is said to be one of the funniest things in which the young actress ever has appeared. Among Miss Cahill's most pronounced successes on the stage in recent years were "Molly Moonshine," "Nancy Brown," "Mary, Mary," "The Boys and Betty," "The Opera Ball," and "Phirring."

LA DERNIERE CRI. There is the comely cry: slightly out of vogue with the advent of the cigarette, but not quite replaceable. And there is the cry with a purpose, which is said to be easy if not so pleasure-affording. But the movie cry, which looks like either or both of the above, is hard work, according to Mary Martin. "I should know. After her last enforcement of tears in the new play she is making, in which she was required to weep three times on an afternoon when she felt particularly jolly, she spent the whole next day in bed, reacting from the strenuous acting. It seems there are cries and cries.

THE TIME OF DAY.

"I'm playing 'The Evening,'" Julie Swayne Gordon explained her presence in town to some chance-met friends. "This evening?" they wanted to know. "In the morning," Miss Gordon firmly insisted. Then they all stopped and took time and breath and got the thing straightened out.

The citizens of Hollywood, Cal., have petitioned the Lasky company to reduce the wall running around its studio yard to a height of five feet.

Detroit may lose a young pitcher from whom much was expected if Johnny Couch carries out his announced intention of returning to college. Couch took a year at Stanford University, then quit school to play ball with San Francisco. Now he thinks he will take up his studies again and fit himself for a professional career. Perhaps the contract rendered him by the Detroit club has had something to do with his sudden decision to go to school again.

The once famous "Red Sox Quartet" is still doing business on the vaudeville circuit, but has lost its color. It is now composed of Ed Bradley, who has been speaking for years from Columbus; George Crabbe, who was with Richmond last season; George Robinson, who played the outfield for San Antonio; and Glenn, third sacker for Shreveport.

It's a long way from Boston, but the quartet still survives and reports many hits before the footlights.

The following request for this request is given in the petition: The rising generation of Hollywoodwoodians will all grow up with such long necks from trying to see over the Lasky fence that they will resemble ostriches much more closely than human beings.

Quick Way to End Coughs, Colds and Croup

An Excellent, Inexpensive Home-Made Remedy that is Prompt and Sure.

If you have a severe cough or chest cold accompanied with soreness, throat tickle, hoarseness, or difficult breathing, or if your child wakes up during the night with croup and you want quick help, just try this pleasant-tasting, home-made cough remedy. Any druggist can supply you with 2½ ounces of Pinex (10 cents worth). Pour this into a pint bottle and add the bottle's plain granulated sugar syrup. This prepared, you have a pint of really remarkable cough remedy—one that can be depended upon for quick and lasting relief at all times.

You can feel this take hold of a cough in a way that means business. It loosens and soothes the inflamed, sore throat tickle and soothes and heals the irritated membranes that line the throat and bronchial tubes with such promptness and certainty that it is really astonishing.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, combined with gum arabic and is used for its soothing, sedative, coughs, throat and chest colds. Its millions of enthusiastic users have made it famous the world over.

There are many worthless imitations of this noted mixture. To avoid disappointment, ask for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with full directions and don't accept anything else. A guarantee of absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded, goes with this preparation. The Pinex Co., Ft. Worth, Ind.

Nan of Music Mountain

By FRANK H. SPEARMAN
Author of "WHISPERING SMITH"

(Copyright by Charles Scribner's Sons)

"Don't be sure about that," muttered Scott. "Duke and Gale have got the best horses in the mountains, and they'd rather fight than eat. There they come now."

Dashing across a plain they themselves had just crossed, they could see three horsemen in hot chase. The pursued man rode carefully, and scanning the ground everywhere ahead, felt assured of their escape. Though their pursuers rode in at times with a show of rushing, the chase was a stern one.

Plans are being made for the holding of a basketball mass-meeting in the gymnasium on Friday evening. The university band will furnish the music and speeches will be given by Dr. Jewell and members of the team. U. S. BOXING ARENAS

"In Australia," he declared, "they couldn't stand for those dirty barns and that haze of smoke. When a fellow has to exert himself he also has to breathe and any one who would ask him to work in smoke-filled, disgusting arenas like those I have seen would be barred from staging bouts. I suppose I will have to go through it I fought in New York," but I'll never get kicking about it."

Arrangements have been completed for the playing of a series of two games with Northwest University of Evanston. The athletic board has decided in favor of making a trial of the sport. Vashington, Jan. 18.—The Bureau Mines, Department of the Interior, has called attention to the increasing number of persons who are becoming acutely ill through breathing the dust gases from automobile engines in garages, and suggested that danger is greatly increased in the winter time when the weather is too cold to keep the doors and windows open.

Portsmouth, Jan. 15.—The annual post-sports day at Longport, the spruce town as it is called by the Interstate Association, shows that out of more than 1,000 shooters who competed in various rifle and handgun events, 2,000, 1,000 and 100 professionals combined under the regulations of the association. Fred Harlow, Newark, headed the amateur rifle class with 1,000 points, and Homer Clark, of Conn. Ill., the professionals with 1,000 in the single target class. All the targets, E. M. Smith, of Vero Beach, Fla., the best amateur with 1,000 and G. Spruener, St. Louis, Mo., professional with 900.

The averages for single targets for the amateurs were 1,000 and for the professionals a minimum of 2,000 points and those of double targets combined in at least two tournaments in accordance with the Interstate Association regulations.

The Watchama Column
Legs.

Legs are convenient attachments used by human beings to hold on to streetcars, trolleys, automobiles and other modes of transportation. At other times we just let them dangle from our waistlines. Legs originate from the pelvis in pairs, for human beings to get around on. But we're outgrown them. The only really useful leg today is the leg of man or beast, or of mutton.

Legs still constitute the only real excuse for burlesque shows, of course; and they're an aid in keeping cats and dogs from running, but as things to walk on, we keep them only for emergencies.

This applies only to human beings. With horses, cows, pigs and lake animals' it's different. They still have use for a leg on each corner.

There is only one valid argument for the legs. If we didn't have them, what would we do with our feet?

HAS BILLS RELATING TO MILWAUKEE GOVERNMENT

Madison, Wis., Jan. 18.—Senator David Jennings of Milwaukee offered two bills in the senate today relating to the organization of the city officers of Milwaukee. One bill would reduce the size of the common council from thirty-seven to eighteen members. The other, is to give the mayor a four year term with power to appoint the other city officials.

THE WASTE BASKET.

Dear Reader:—There is a paper famine in this country. Your individual help is needed to stop it. If you will watch this little box every day we will try to tell you how you can do that.

We used to import 50 per cent of the rags and old paper used in making news paper, wrapping news paper, cardboard, all kinds of paper. The war has stopped that supply. In consequence, paper prices have gone up, in some instances 100 per cent.

Retail stores can help by posting notices asking customers not to insist on having their waste paper. If they can be conveniently handled otherwise. Customers can help by acting on the suggestion.

Housewives can help by saving rags and waste paper, bundling them up and selling them to the junk man. Tomorrow we will tell you some of the kinds of rags most in demand, and why.

TO QUARANTINE FORESTS
AGAINST TREE DISEASE.

Washington, Jan. 18.—Prepared to fight spread of the white pine blister disease that threatens $365,000,000 worth of timber in New England and other northwestern states, delegates to the International Conference of the American Forestry Association gathered here today.

Quarantines to check the dreadful disease were suggested by experts in attendance. By these white pine seedlings and currant and gooseberry bushes on which the fungus feeds would not be permitted to be shipped from infected states. With the French Armies, Jan. 18.—

There was nothing to prevent Glynemer giving immediate battle except that should he be forced to land he would fall in the German lines. He therefore took refuge behind some friendly clouds until the German squadron should pass ahead of him, then started the pursuit from behind, closing up sufficiently so that if he should be seen by the German anti-aircraft gunners from below, he would been taken merely for one of the human planes.

For seventy kilometers he kept the pursuit, concealing himself as much as possible from the German eyes, and waiting for a favorable opportunity to strike from the clouds. When the French plane last appeared below him he came in full view and began to fight. A German machine nearest him charged and shot at him. He came down on his side, he opened his machine gun fire at an altitude of two miles, he killed the observer with his third bullet and with the tenth the pilot fell from the machine dead, and the plane began spinning and came down towards the French lines.

Although the machine was the only one Guynemer had brought down that day he at once started after the other three, but those in the evening had disappeared toward their own lines.

Without further ado Guymon entered in search of his victim and succeeded in locating the machine in the ravine of Mocomut, the plane had shattered into fragments and the bodies of both the pilot and observer lay within a radius of fifty yards of the light tower. Tuned by the officers of the American squadron, they are now stationed where they can take advantage of witnessing some of the exploits of the crack "aces" of the French aerial service.

Pitcher Fred Beebe, transferred from the Cleveland club to Portland of the Pacific Coast league, has been admitted to working the farm, according to report but, will give his time to the farm next summer. Beebe played the same stuff on Indianapolis in spring, but changed his mind when Cleveland secured his contract.
